CARIBBEAN DREAM

"The freedom to put it together in a way that you think is right for you!"

It is the woman's decision today in how she wants to dress, even for special occasions. In the age of Design the woman looks for her own, sporty and wide range look.

Through the Mix and Match articles of our collections, women can choose for themselves the combinations that make her feel confident and put together.

The Media, by suggesting through Fashion Shows and "must haves", in the past have had a big Influence on the consumer. But, it is no longer like this.

Fashion has become more available as never before, and is more fashionable, always attentive, and irrelevant.

It is no longer important if one dresses to follow the latest suggestions of the correspondents at the fashion shows. Every stylist suggests his or her own trend.

Are the suggestions they give always correct? Generally speaking, yes. But not everything looks good on everyone or every age group. It is now important, more than ever, that the chosen look and style suit wearability and the way of life of the wearer.

More important than fashion obedience today, are the novelty items and a personal touch of the individual.

Daywear fashion today reflects our fast, active life and should not restrict the necessary movements of the wearer. Only the modernity of Active Wear makes the fashionable extravagance reliable.

The spirit of time has given more attention to the options and not to the details of fashion. The styles go in the direction of variants of thought.

Fashion collections, such as DISMERO, take into consideration the very important aspect of Individual combinations and offer a greater number of possibilities.

An ideal wardrobe can change, with only a few extras, from a stylish day wear outfit into a garment proper for an evening out.

This is the concept and reality of what makes DISMERO so unique and special. It is a combination that is for today's woman of fashion sense and desire to be different and one to emulate.
